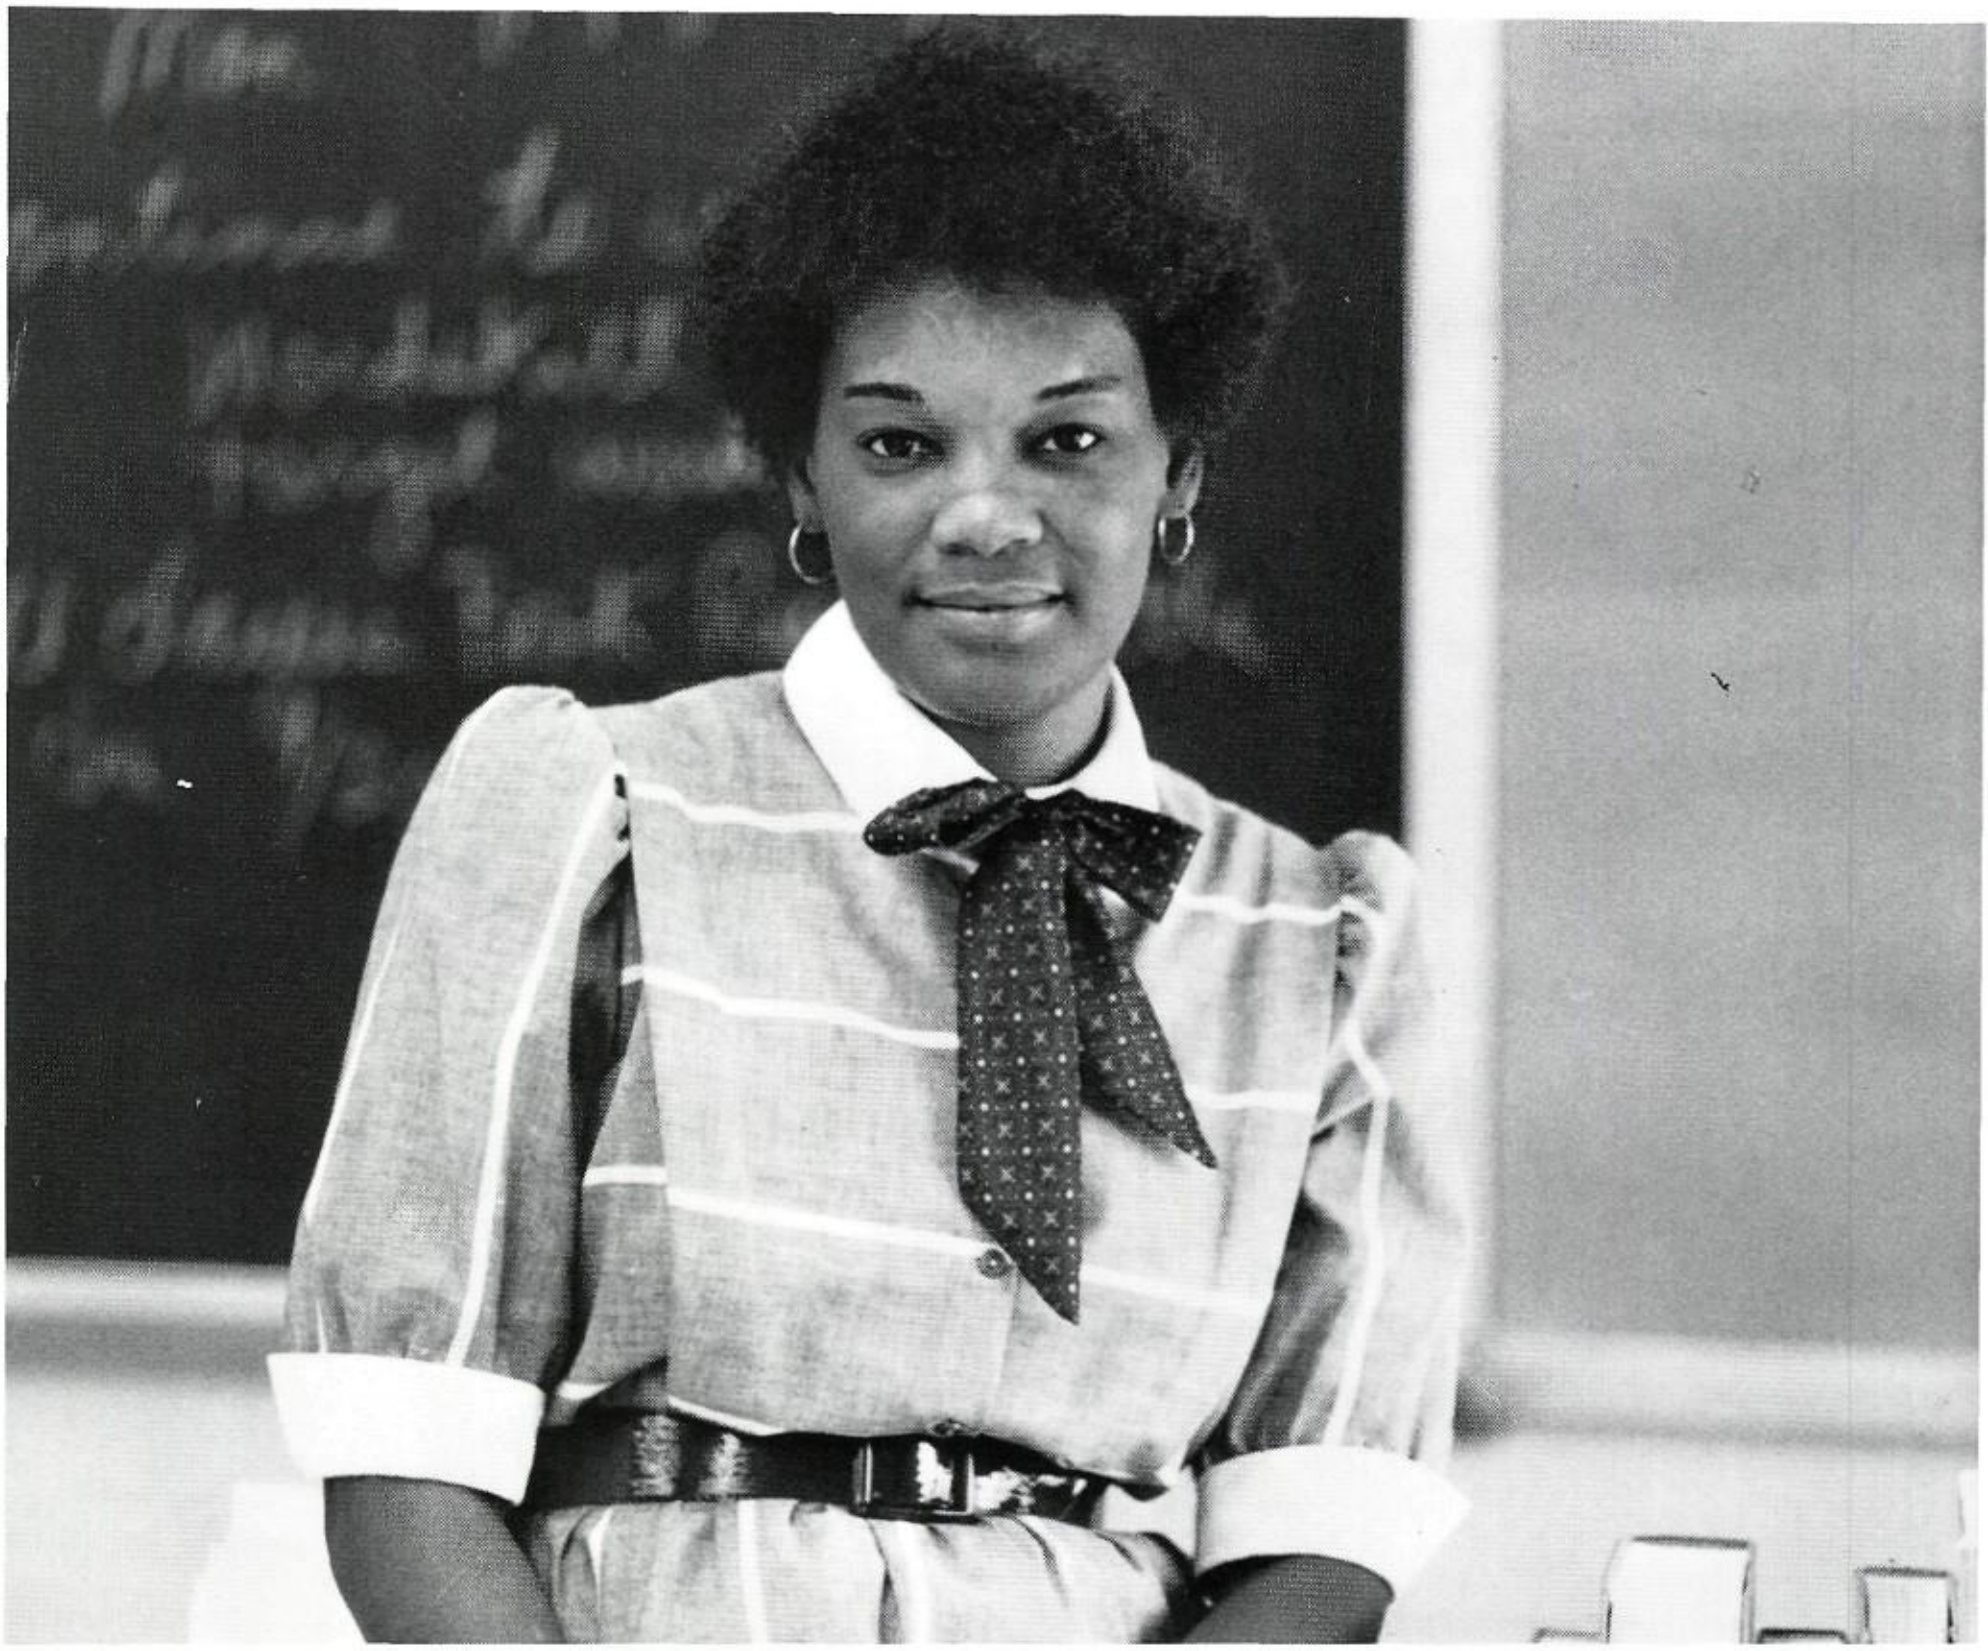
1988 Maroon And Gold Dedication: Mrs. Nan Cobbs



As time passes, our memories fade; yet pictures and words in a book remain as vivid as the day they were printed. Thus, schools create annual yearbooks to retain forever the images of our pasts.

The theme of this year's Maroon and Gold is "Reflections." This single word captures what all believe a yearbook should provide: the means to reminisce and to realize how the years at school have helped to shape each of us into the adult he or she has become.

In choosing a recipient for this year's dedication, it seemed appropriate to select a person who was influential to us during our high school years. As we considered our choices, one name continued to surface - that of a person who had been intimately involved in the creation of memories for a decade of GHS students as advisor of the Maroon and Gold: Ms. Nan Cobbs.

Ms. Cobbs first joined the GHS family in 1973 and taught here for 13 years. Last spring she resigned to relocate to Lewes, Delaware with her husband, former principal, Roy E. Holland, and her daughter Ursula.

Ms. Cobbs' advisory position was not the only reason for our choice. She has also endeared herself to us as a dedicated teacher and a caring individual. Her students use a wide range of descriptives to portray her - tough, demanding, hard-working, persistent, disciplined, fair, fun-loving, and concerned. Ms. Cobbs believed that the only way to receive the best efforts from her students was to demand those efforts. Her expectations were high because she believed in her students and challenged them to strive for achievement. But Ms. Cobbs never expected from others what she was not willing to do herself. She was always there to provide assistance, encouragement, and her own time to help students meet their potentials. She could often be found in the building before the school day began and long after it had ended as she modeled the behavior she expected from others: the creation of an ordered environment, a willingness to expend the time and effort necessary to fulfill the task, and the completion of the best possible final product.

During her tenure here at GHS, Ms. Cobbs saw many colleagues come and go. As yearbook advisor she was often responsible for selecting one of them as the dedicatee for the yearbook. This task was a challenging one, for it required the analysis of those achievements and qualities which best portrayed the essence of that person.

For us, however, this task is not difficult at all. We, the staff of the 1988 Maroon and Gold, are living examples of Ms. Cobbs' dedication to the development of the individual student and the 1988 Maroon and Gold is concrete testimony to her completion of the final product. Although she was not here to help us ship the final copy, Ms. Cobbs had helped us to layout this book last year and had instilled in us the skills, self-discipline, and sense of commitment which have guided us in producing this annual.

Thus, it is with love and thanks that we dedicate the 1988 Maroon and Gold to Ms. Nan Cobbs. May our Reflections make her proud.

School Spirit Week

Baby Day: Michelle Meister

Every year before Homecoming, the S.G.A. sponsors Spirit Week, a 5-day adventure in which students try to prove how much spirit and enthusiasm they have for their school. Each day has a different theme. The themes for this year were Nerd Day, Baby Day, Sports Day, Fifties Day, and Maroon and Gold Day. These students are just a few who participated in Spirit Week. The overall winners of the week were the Sophomores, advised by Ms. Blumenfeld.

The National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a group of gifted students who are honored by both the student body and the faculty of the Glassboro High School. The students of National Honor Society are selected on the merits of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The scholarship requirement is fulfilled by a students earning a minimum of 3.5 grade point average. Academically qualified students are then evaluated by the entire faculty in the areas of leadership, service, and character.

The seniors who are involved in the National Honor Society are awarded numerous scholarships and grants for their outstanding scholastic qualities.

The Homecoming festivities were celebrated on Thanksgiving Day, November 26, 1987. Excitement was in the air. On this beautiful fall day, the Bulldogs defeated Clearview's Pioneers with a score of 20-13. The members of the Homecoming Court, and their escorts paraded around the track, along with the floats.

At half-time, Miss Angela Allyn Smith was crowned the 1987-88 Homecoming Queen. The winning float was that of the Sophomores, presenting "Loch Nessie of Scotland." Following was the "200th Celebration of America" by the Juniors, "A Look at Italy" by the Freshmen, and the elaborate "Egyptian Paradise" by the Seniors.

Special thanks to Kathy Von Holtz for her organization, and also our gratitude to Jeff Berman for providing us with pictures.

G.H.S. Presents "Play It Again Sam"

This year, Michael Giordano again proved his expert talent when he successfully directed the comedy Play It Again Sam by Woody Allen. The performers put on a spectacular show. Lead male was performed by Steve Powell and lead female was Debbie Johnson. Another significant role, that of Humphrey Bogart, was played by Benji Salter. This was the last performance in a play for most of the performers and they did an excellant job.

Class Advisor:
Ms. Kathleen Iannacone

On behalf of the graduating class of 1988, we would like to express our sincere and utmost appreciation to Ms. Kathleen Iannacone.

We entered GHS as naive Freshmen, and it wasn't long before you introduced us to our new environment and helped us make it our own. Your advice and friendship guided us through a sometimes difficult, but enriching freshman year.

Once we were on our way, you stayed beside us and devoted your time and experience to help us develop into mature young adults.

Our Sophomore year proved to be more educational, but you reminded us that we were only halfway through. We were instilled with a sense of confidence at the beginning of our Junior year, and a feeling of fellowship to overcome the fears and obstacles yet to come. Still devoted, you prepared and enlightened us for our last, most fulfilling year.

After three years of both the best of times and the worst of times, we found ourselves as Seniors. With your leadership, we managed to stick together even when, at times, it seemed impossible. You were always there when we needed you, as a friend, as well as an advisor. You reminded us that it wasn't over yet, and we trusted you when you told us how to strive for goals and ambitions in our lives to come. Thank you for making our four years at GHS the most valuable and enlightening experience that we've known. GHS has been something more than 4 years of education — it's been a supplier of experiences, and most of all, of everlasting memories of the best times of our lives.

We hope that you will always remember the Class of 1988, as friends, and we truly thank you for your care and devotion.

John Dougherty
President, Class Of '88

CLASS HISTORY

It was September of 1984 when the GHS we'd only heard about became our own. We were nervous, if not intimidated, by all the new experiences that confronted us. Gradually, we assumed an identity of our own, rich with spirit and enthusiasm. We even had an undefeated football team that season, and adjusted well to our new home. Our government that year consisted of Sam Laspata as President and Angie Smith as his Vice-President. Chrissie Coulter was our Secretary and Michael Shillingsford served as Treasurer. To guide us through our high school years, Ms. Kathleen Iannacone volunteered to be our advisor. We don't think she knew then what she was getting herself into.

When we returned in the fall, R.J. Meagher became our President, and the roles of Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer were handed down to Diane Cioffi, Denise Reinek, and Kathy VonHoltz. We all felt just a little older and very out of place. We were Sophomores, not the incoming freshman and not quite in the league with the upperclassmen. We had our Sophomore Hop on April 12, 1986 and Sam Laspata and Nicole Puteri were crowned Prince and Princess. This was also the year of the Presidential visit to GHS. It was hard to believe that those graduation ceremonies went so smoothly after a full week of general mayhem. Somehow, we survived as a group and another year had slipped away from us.

The seasons ran their route and the full circle of the year was completed. We found ourselves as Juniors, as well as upperclassmen — finally!! All of us received our licenses one by one, and our social lives were now exploding. Each of us now had a pretty good idea of who we were, and where we were going, but we always held onto our best friends. They were the people that made the difference when at one time or another, each of us seemed to be at the end of our rope. It was also our year to host the Prom for the Senior Class. We all looked forward to that night, knowing that the next year it would be held in our honor.

Our King and Queen were Nic Bowers and Diane Cioffi and it was definitely an evening to be remembered.

Denise Reinek led us through this year as President, and Kim Rossi took the job of Vice-President. Our Secretary was Jennae Suiter, Treasurer was Angie Smith, and Diane Cioffi moved to Committee Planner. This was also the year some of us began to realize that we needed to begin to make plans and prepare for our college educations. Nervously, we pursued our futures through PSAT's, SAT's, and all the opportunities that were now placed before us.

The following fall, we passed through the front doors of GHS holding the esteemed title of "THE SENIORS". The big year that once seemed so distant was now upon us. To lead us through this all-important year, we selected John Dougherty to be our President, with Skip Vasil as Vice-President. Jennae Suiter, Angie Smith, and Diane Cioffi kept their respective offices. Ms. Iannacone even hung in there through our final year. By this time, she had become more than our advisor — she was a true friend to all of us. We realized that our class seemed to grow closer as the years went on. After all, we had been through a lot together — the Annual Snowballs, four Homecomings, a Hop, two Proms, a Presidential visit, our senior trip, and many other things as well . . . (Great Adventure!!) We all seemed to be promising our friends that nothing would come between us, yet deep down inside everyone knew that graduation would mean the end of some of the best times of our lives.

So the years ran out and each of us grew up. Now we move on, out of GHS, leaving a legacy of memories, hopes, and dreams for all who follow. Our time is up, yet all our spirit remains. We are, and always will be, Glassboro High's Class of 1988.

Memories We'll

"Careless Whisper"

After many weeks and months of planning, the day of April 12, 1986 had finally arrived. Bright and early, we arrived at the school to begin the decorations. After hours of set-up, we thought the end of preparing was near. Balloons, streamers and flowers brightened every corner of the gym. To us, the gym looked like a wonderland of pink and white. However, we were fooled. Right before our eyes, our wonderland collapsed. The few who had stayed until the end started over and soon the gym looked gorgeous again. After everyone had arrived, we spent the next few hours dancing and laughing the night away. At the end of the evening, our Prince and Princess were crowned. Sam Laspata and Nicolle Puteri started us dancing to our theme "Careless Whisper". Soon the night was over. We were all sad to see it end so quickly, yet we were happy; for our first formal dance had been a success.

Court Members: Jamie Stroyek, Denise Reinek, Nick Bowers, Kristi Vasile, Angie Smith, Mark Graves, Christa Maddox, Kelly Warrick, Diane Cioffi, Jack Rogers, Prince-Sam Laspata, Princess-Nicolle Puteri

Princess: Nicole Puteri
Prince: Sam Laspata

Treasure Forever . . .

1987 Prom Court: B. Salter, D. Johnson, S. Vasil, T. Devlin, K. Warrick, A. Smith, Queen-D. Cioffi, King-N. Bowers, M. Ziegler, E. Vignola, B. Mazzeo, S. Powell, K. Vasile, A. DiRienzo

"If Only For One Night"

After a successful Hop, we were excited for our Junior Prom. This time we were out of the gym and into the elegant Crystal Manor. We had selected a theme that seemed quite appropriate, "If Only For One Night." This night-June 5, 1987-would be one we would remember for a long time to come.

Everyone looked and felt so grown up and wonderful. We danced and laughed all night, waiting to learn who would be our King and Queen. Diane Cioffi and Nic Bowers were the two chosen by our class to head the court. As the evening slipped into the morning, the dancing and laughter slowly faded into the stillness of the night. With everyone feeling like they never wanted the evening to end, friends made the traditional plans for the next day.

Our Junior Prom would be a night that would live in our hearts and our minds forever.

Queen: Diane Cioffi
King: Nic Bowers

A Special Goodbye . . .

Dear members of the Class of '88,

This is quite an emotional time for me; I'm filled with such ambivalent feelings. I'm so excited for all of you as you move on to bigger and better life experiences, and I'm proud of all that you have accomplished thus far. The nostalgia that I feel is still overwhelming me though.

All year, in preparing to bid you farewell, I've been experiencing flashbacks of you as Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors. Ever since you entered Glassboro High School, I've been bragging about what a wonderful class you are. In the classroom, as well as in extracurricular activities, the vast majority of you have been the most dedicated, yet fun-loving, group I've had the pleasure to work with in years.

As Freshmen, you were so timid (for the first few months) and willing to please. You were the brightest students, and an absolute joy to teach. Conehead, Morticia, and Scooby-Doo remember you well. Your officers that year were endearing as they tried to accomplish so much in spite of feeling the confusion of new duties. Your coolness as Sophomores was also reflected in your officers — although we all knew that this new-found self-assuredness was often a façade. Our Sophomore Hop was beautiful, despite the fact that the decorations fell after five hours of work, causing us to redesign and redecorate with the few volunteers who remained.

As Juniors, you were truly cool — no longer acting. Your officers, or the "the girl's club", took control and helped you plan and execute a wonderful prom. I was so proud of you as you proved my point that high school students will comport themselves as adults, given the opportunity.

This year, you were "it" — the Seniors, The Ones In Control. You held one of the nicest Senior Dinner Dances in recent history, in the GSC ballroom. As these four years dwindle to the last few days, with the trip fading into our collective memory, you begin to appreciate the significance of your high school days. Never again will you be a high school student looking forward to the future. I'm pleased to have been a part of your past and hope to be a part of that future.

I wish you happiness and self-fulfillment. Keep in touch with those of us who care.

School Day Memories

As we reach out our hand,
  The diploma we grasp,
While we think of the memories
  of the years in the past.

Tears fill our eyes,
  Because it's all gone;
We're starting a new life,
  We have to move on.

We hope friends will keep in touch,
  As the years pass us by;
Although it hurts inside,
  We'll try not to cry.

We think of kindergarten,
  And of our first day;
Now we've reached the end-
  We are going away.

How do you say good-bye,
  To friends who mean so much?
Will there be time
  To sincerely keep in touch?

You'll always have the memories
  Of your school years from day one;
Don't think of school as ending,
  Think a new life has begun!

Now the end has come, the time has passed,
And as we think of days gone by;
We'll each one say, in a mournful way,
Dear Alma Mater, Goodbye.

Through four long years we've loved her,
Our Alma Mater dear;
And as memories come, we'll think of her,
As a loved one, always near.

Within her sheltering portals,
We've found friends, both tried and true;
And we know dear Alma Mater,
That the best has come through you.

Whenever we're sad and lonely,
Straight to you our thoughts will fly;
And we'll be cheered by happy memories,
Of the days at Glassboro High.

Many are the joys and the sorrows,
That we each have encountered here;
But we would trade not joy for the sorrow,
For they brought us some friendships so dear.

To our teachers we owe the credit,
Of lessons learned, noble and grand;
And in all of our life's hard problems,
For the right we will always stand.

Though our steps on Life's pathway may falter,
And our adventures may not turn out so great;
We will ever strive to bring honor,
To the Class of Eighty-Eight.

Now the end has come, the time has passed,
And as we think of the days gone by;
We'll each one say in a mournful way,
Dear Alma Mater, Good-Bye.

A Final Tribute To Some Special Friends . . .

Gregory Baxter

Greg was a gentle and sweet young man who always had a smile for everyone. His cheerfulness brightened the days of many people, family, friends and teachers alike. Suffering from a lifelong battle with hemophilia, Greg was taken from us tragically during our junior year.

Through his high school years, Greg was hospitalized a number of times, but he never let this imposition affect the way he treated others. Until the end he remained a light-spirited and friendly young man-a true friend to all of us.

Though he is no longer physically with us, his spirit remains in the heart of everyone he touched.

David MacIlvaine

David was a special friend to many members of the Class of 1988. His passing shortly before our first year in high school left many of us saddened, because we knew we would never again see his smiling face.

If he were with us today, David would probably still be an active part of our school. His love of baseball was a special part of his life, and he was an exemplary team player.

He was truly a unique person, whose spirit never diminished in the face of his illness. David's courageousness was admired by everyone who knew him, and his example of living for today is an inspiration to all of us.

Debbie Messina

She was a young girl in her prime- kind, caring, and most of all, our friend. Debbie Messina's life was taken suddenly in an automobile accident during our sophomore year.

No one can completely state the loss we all suffered as her peers, and as her schoolmates. It is something- a role or a place in our lives that no one could ever fill or play to replace Debbie.

Yet we'll carry on, and always cherish the memories of the moments we shared, in school and in our social lives. Debbie livened our days and filled our weekends with laughter. Then suddenly, she was gone. A precious life filled with love, dreams, and ambitions was lost to carelessness.

The days and years may go by, and the sorrow may gradually pass, yet the emptiness- that single, hollow place within us- will always remain.
